CALL FOR PROJECTS

Cut to the quick of Time: Infuse/Diffuse

3e impérial, centre d’essai en art actuel, invites artists to submit project proposals that animate the contours of unfathomable and imaginary time through creative, engaged and engaging projects. With an emphasis on the figure and role of the artist within global and local issues, and focusing on critical topics of our times (ecology, natural threats, human migration, consumerism with widespread technological developments, intergenerational relations at the watershed of meaning and of the future, etc.), we are seeking projects that relate to the history, life and environment in and around Granby (Québec, Canada), and engage in a collaborative relationship with the 3e impérial team.

Artists interested in submitting a proposal are invited to take note of the train of thought implicit to the exploration cycle Cut to the quick of Time: Infuse/Diffuse as well as the terms of coproduction and dissemination of 3e impérial.

Founded in 1984, the 3e impérial, centre d’essai en art actuel, puts forward an interdisciplinary and contextual approach to the visual arts with a foundation in everyday life and in proximity with surrounding communities. The 3e impérial’s activities – creation, exploration, production, dissemination, critical thought and writing, publishing, public forums and artist/author/researcher residencies – are based in collaboration and the encounter between knowledges and experiences, with the aim to support, document, develop and put into practice public sites of infusion and diffusion of territorial and human specificities, while foregrounding the connections between artistic practices, public spaces, and community involvement.
